THE FRIENDLY SKIES OFFER TTY SERVICE

National Airlines has expanded its reservations service for deaf or speech impaired passengers by offering toll-free telephone service throughout Florida. The Los Angeles deaf community is also scheduled to benefit from the new phone system.

National is the first and only U.S. airline to offer the service for deaf travelers. It introduced the new telephone system at its Miami reservations office last February. At that time, the airline said it hoped usage would warrant expansion throughout Florida and at each of its U.S. reservations centers in New York, New Orleans, Washington, D.C. and Los Angeles.

By dialing 1-800-432-1537, customers anywhere in Florida with TTY machines can receive flight information and make reservations on National. The airline's Los Angeles special service is awaiting a phone number assignment. When it is available, it will be announced in local publications for the deaf.

The Miami-based Deaf Services Bureau of Florida reports there are 35,000 Floridians with impaired hearing and that there are more than 600 TDD sets in use and about 1,800 state-wide.
